
The main aim of this forum is to focus the institutional attention on the theme of development and streamlining of Bulgarian public administration. The Bulgarian authorities have made already meaningful efforts towards not only the completion of the transition, but also in sight of the future access to European Union. However, Bulgaria should improve the administrative sector, particularly the economic and entrepreneurial development in order to positively affect the access to the inner market and the enforcement of the acquis communautaire. The "Elios" project arises, therefore, because of the need to intervene on the local authorities in order to re-organise them to accelerate the process of European integration in progress. The project, consistently with the principles of the Italian Law n. 84/01, aims at the strengthening of the local institution and bodies and supporting the entrepreneurial and productive development through the removal of those obstacles that hinder the productive national and international investments.
